

ABSTRACT

Disclosed are methods for allele discrimination involving the use of rolling circle amplification (RCA) coupled with primer extension and utilizing 5 exonuclease deficient polymerases to distinguish matched and unmated single nucleotide sites, such as in the case of a single nucleotide polymorphism (SNP).

53